About Melvin Price

Gen. Sorensen

The statesman who is being honored by ROA this evening is one of the outstanding personalities in the Congress, the second-ranking member of the House Armed Services Committee and one who has contributed to an extraordinary degree to National Security and to the Reserve Forces program. The Honorable Charles Melvin Price is in the midst of an exciting life career, having been a preeminent sports editor and member of the National Baseball Writers Association, before going into politics and service on the St. Clair County Board of Supervisors. He subsequently came to Washington to represent the 23rd District of Illinois, being elected to the 79th Congress and has been returned for each successive Congress since that time. He has given especially meaningful service as Chairman of Subcommittee No. 1, which led to the advancement of the Research and Development and Military Airlift programs.

As we observe ROA's 52nd Anniversary, it is interesting to note that our first National President, Brig. Gen. Henry J. Reilly, a close friend and confidant of Gen. John J. Pershing, was from Chicago, and now—52 years later—we have from this same city another Brigadier General as ROA's National President—Ted Sorensen.
